Dialogue du Corps

The Dance Training Centre of the ROC in Amsterdam takes great pleasure in being able to present itself within the context of the HRD congress. The aim of the dance training course is to turn out dancer/choreographers of a high calibre for further training and for the professional market. You will be shown a selection from the repertoire of the third year students. The title of the piece is 'Dialogue du Corps' (Dialogue of the body). All of the dancers have contributed to the development of the choreography. Special thanks go to the teachers and instructors of the dance team of the ROC in Amsterdam.

Yoga

Yoga warming-up, Tuesday 10 October 08.15 hrs to 08.45 hrs

Start your conference day in a dynamic way with yoga! Almost one hour focussing just on you. Awakening in a stimulating session using your breath helping you to circulate your energy through your whole body. Tune in and warm-up in different poses and meditation resulting in a balanced mind making you ready to participate and absorb for the remains of the day. Join us!

Yoga cooling-down, Tuesday 10 October 17.15 hrs to 17.45 hrs

Full with valuable insights and 'lessons learned' and grateful for the sharing, you are ready to put closure on the day. It's time to allow yourself to let go of the brain-work, and to release impressions, stress and tension. Easy-going yoga poses, varied with powerful ones, and meditation exercises will give you refreshment. One hour of complete attention for yourself, by yourself, reconnecting body and mind. Join us (again)!

FSR - Hungry for knowledge?

We are no know-it-alls, no school-teachers, and we don't label persons on their competences, profiles or diplomas. We do not know all our course-members by name although it would be nice to get to know each other better. We do not live off advice or theoretical models. No, we act which does not mean that we do not think before we do so. Our roots can be found in the field of education and library, but we are not dull and definitely no bookworms.

Yes, we know all there is to know about Windows, Word and Excel, but we are no nerds or computer freaks. And of course we grow older every day but that does not mean we stop programming as wiz kids. We like to work for the government but we believe in a business approach in our projects. We are proud to be the most popular educator in the Staffing Industry, we are the most successful supplier of e-learning in the Netherlands and we do believe in video, Internet and teachers. And we see a computer as a machine and a teacher as a human.

We are Holland's most complete educator, by far the best e-learning supplier in Europe and the most fun company to work for. We are FSR and we provide Food For Thought. FSR supports the International HRD Conference because it involves the ongoing development of people and organisations and thereby affects us all.

Waardenmanagement

Do you know what drives people... and how to drive them? ValuesManagement invites you to discover what drives you, so you can get the most out of this conference. By doing this we would like to make a contribution to bridging the gap between people and cultures, as brought together at this conference.

We provide insight into your preference in thinking, feeling and acting by means of the playful efforts of our ValuesManagement CorporateTheatre. We use colors and the basic assumption that everyone has a personal color scheme. We whole-heartedly invite you to be moved by the enchantment of our theatrical presentations.

Besides theatre we offer tools and a scientifically proven methodology in order to provide you with insight in the drives of your people, teams and organizations using the color scheme. For more information go to: www.valuesmanagement.net

The International Lounge

The International Lounge is available for the convenience of participants from outside of the Netherlands. Share in discussions & meet fellow professionals!
